Holiday Scams and How to Protect Yourself

From the SXD IT Department

The holiday season is a busy time for shoppers, families, and unfortunately scammers. To help everyone stay safe, we are sharing the full article “Holiday Scams” from the FBI, which offers clear guidance on how to protect yourself while shopping online this season.

Below is the complete article text from the FBI.

Holiday Scams

When shopping online during the holiday season or any time of the year, always be wary of deals that seem too good to be true. Don’t become a scammer’s next victim.

Every year, thousands of people become victims of holiday scams. Scammers can rob you of hard-earned money, personal information, and, at the very least, a festive mood.

Scams include:

- Non-delivery scams, where you pay for services you find online, but you never receive your items
- Non-payment scams, where you ship purchased goods or services, but you never receive payment for them
- Auction fraud, where a product your purchase was misrepresented on an auction site
- Gift card fraud, where a seller asks you to pay with a pre-paid card

According to the Internet Crime Complaint Center’s (IC3) 2023 report, non-payment and non-delivery scams cost people more than $309 million that year. Credit card fraud accounted for another $173 million in losses.

The IC3 receives a large volume of complaints in the early months of each year, suggesting a correlation with the previous holiday season’s shopping scams.

Protect Yourself

Whether you're the buyer or seller, there are a number of ways you can protect yourself and your wallet. Remember: If it seems too good to be true, that's because it is.

Practice good cybersecurity hygiene.

- Don't click any suspicious links or attachments in emails, on websites, or on social media. Phishing scams and similar crimes get you to click on links and give up personal information like your name, password, and bank account number. In some cases, you may be unknowingly download malware to your device.
- Be especially wary if a company asks you to update your password or account information. Look up the company's phone number on your own and call the company.

Know who you're buying from or selling to.

- Check each website's URL to make sure it's legitimate and secure. A site you're buying from should have "https" in the web address. If it doesn't, don't enter your information on that site
- If you're purchasing from a company for the first time, do your research and check reviews.
- Verify the legitimacy of a buyer or seller before moving forward with a purchase. If you're using an online marketplace or auction website, check their feedback rating. Be wary of buyers and sellers with mostly unfavorable feedback ratings or no ratings at all.
- Avoid sellers who act as authorized dealers or factory representatives of popular items in countries where there would be no such deals.
- Be wary of sellers who post an auction or advertisement as if they reside in the U.S but then respond to questions by stating they are out of the country on business, family emergency, or similar reasons.
- Avoid buyers who request their purchase be shipped using certain method to avoid customs or taxes inside another country.

Be careful how you pay.

- Never wire money directly to a seller.
- Avoid paying for items with pre-paid gift cards. In these scams, a seller will ask you to send them a gift card number and PIN. Instead of using that gift card for your payment, the scammer will steal the funds, and you'll never receive your item.
- Use a credit card when shopping online and check your statement regularly. If you see a suspicious transaction, contact your credit card company to dispute the charge.

Monitor the shipping process.

- Always get tracking numbers for items you buy online, so you can make sure they have been shipped and can follow the delivery process.
- Be suspect of any credit card purchases where the address of the cardholder does not match the shipping address when you are selling. Always receive the cardholder's authorization before shipping any products.

NATURAL Resources

-David Tenario
Natural Resources Director

Greetings Wa:k Community! We would like to take this time to wish you and your family a Merry Christmas! Due to the holiday season our office will be closed on the following days (12/25/2025, 12/26/2025, 1/1/2026, & 1/2/2026.) Please stop by our office if you have any questions or need information on your allotment(s); please ask for Miranda.

Both of our Natural Resources Specialist, Morgan Parsons & Ulrick Francisco, wanted to share the following information with you.

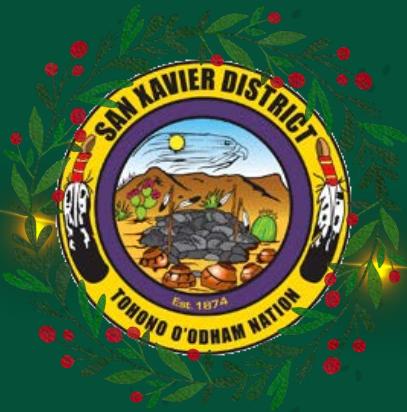

Recently, the Tohono O'odham Nation (TON) Natural Resources Department announced that starting on October 31st, 2025, the TON will no longer inspect fresh or unhealed brands for sale or transport as a proactive step in preventing the potential spread of the New World Screwworm (NWS) until further notice. Before the Covid pandemic, NWS was effectively contained at the Isthmus of Panama via sterile insect technique. The pandemic caused supply line issues which decreased the consistent supply of sterile insects used in containing the spread of NWS. In September it was reported that the NWS had been tracked as close as seventy miles from the US border, although it is closer to Texas than it is Arizona. NWS lays its eggs within fresh wounds like fresh brands, by burrowing in the animal's flesh and can kill a warm-blooded animal within seven days if left untreated. Treatment requires a medical professional to remove each worm individually, sometimes surgically. It is recommended not to do at home on your own, as removed larvae could continue to spread in your area. Therefore, the TON is taking a proactive approach to cease inspections of fresh brands on livestock, which includes cattle, horses, and burros in order to limit the potentially devastating effects on NWS on both our beloved animals, the livestock industry within the TON, as well as our beloved community members. We understand that this could present a burden to brand holders and we want to offer support from both the District and TON to lessen this potential burden. We would like to remind our community members that the TON's Range Management Office offers various means of support and assistance.

Assistance offered by the TON's Range Conservation and Management Program:

- Assistance to community members, Districts, associations, and other land managers to achieve their range conservation and improvement goals.
- Drought relief supplies and materials.
- Reestablishing the lower elevation TON boundary fence line.
- Education and outreach about range conservation and management.
- Invasive species planning and management (Feral horses, burros, Stinknet, Buffelgrass, etc.)
- Natural Resources Workforce Development.
- Building and repairing watershed function on the range lands of the TON including charcos, berms, and small-scale erosion control structures.
- Clearing brush for fence lines and clearing woody tree encroachment in historic grassland areas.
- Repairing roads for access to the range lands (this does not include road maintenance.)
- Small-scale engineering for erosion control (berms) and surface water access (charcos.)
- Mapping and GIS services
- Fencing materials to assist with the upfront financial burden for ranchers applying for EQIP.
- Provided guidance on range management plans and resources available.

If you have any questions, concerns, or comments please don't hesitate to contact us: David Tenario (520) 573-4056, Geena Johnson (520) 573-4055, Morgan Parsons (520) 573-4057, Ulrick Francisco (520) 573-4054, or Miranda Flores (520) 573-4053.

We look forward to assisting you and the Wa:k Community in 2026! Be safe and Happy New Year!

EVENTS COORDINATOR

Himdag Haicu 'A:ga Ge'e S-he:pijig Maṣad December/ Big Cold Month

A:ñi 'añ hab ce:gig Michael David Anthony Enis. Ñ amjed i:ya Wa:k tab, D o añ Wa:k Himdag Events Coordinator. Here is some information to share. There are many ways O'odham Himdag is shared and understood. Let this be one source for you as you read and even listen.

During this month, O'odham gather in different ways to keep many traditions. Some traditions have been kept for generations, and some are new.

Ho'ok A:gida (O'odham Legends) are usually shared during cold nights. O'odham long ago would listen as an older family member shared the Ho'ok A:gida and reminded everyone of the stories and the lessons learned from them.

A person could hear the same story the same way, but might have a different viewpoint or understanding over time or as they age.

Below is a QR code to a short O'odham story of Ban (Coyote) and the Cuwī (Jackrabbit). Feel free to listen, learn, and share.

In closing, as we approach the end of another calendar year, celebrate yourself and what you have achieved and accomplished. You have made it this far.

Not too long ago, Ñ-Wosk (My Grandfather) would share with me that during New Year's Eve, before midnight, the community would celebrate with Waila until midnight. Then the music would stop, and the traditional singers would gather in front of the Rock House to sing, and the people would dance until morning.

I believe what our Elders and Ancestors did before us is what positive energy we are living off now. We should plan for the energy we are leaving for those after us. No one is perfect; we can only keep trying each day. Remember that you are important and you are needed in our community.

I look forward to creating and collaborating with you all in the near future on cultural and community events and potential ideas. If you have any suggestions or questions, please feel free to reach out by email at menis@waknet.org or by phone at (520) 573-4005. Pegi 'Oig.

SOUTHERN ARIZONA WATER RIGHTS SETTLEMENT ACT

As mentioned in the October 2025 Wa:k Newsletter, the following multi-agency teams contribute to the implementation of the San Xavier Cooperative farm (SXCA) rehabilitation and extension, as authorized under the Southern Arizona Water Rights Settlement Act (SAWRSA) and the Arizona Water Settlement Act Amendments (AWSA).

The Tohono O'odham Nation Legislative Council (TOLC) authorized the San Xavier District (District) to plan and design the farm rehabilitation and extension project by TOLC Resolutions #2000-349 and 22-331. The current Resolution #22-331 states, "Affirming the Tohono O'odham Nation's Consent to San Xavier District Being Treated as a Tribal Organization for Self-Determination Contracts...".

The SXCA staff and board members are the primary decision-makers for the farm development, using research data on irrigation methods, crop productivity, and hydrology. Research data was obtained from contracted agriculture engineers, BOR, and SXCA's farming practices.

The Bureau of Reclamation (BOR) is the lead agency for designing and constructing the farm rehabilitation and extension. They must comply with the National Environmental Protection Act (NEPA), collect data, and evaluate the environmental impacts of the projects, including archeological and historical sites and biological resources (plants, animals, and endangered species).

The Nation's Natural Resources Department's Cultural Affairs and Ecologist Offices are consulted to protect the natural (plants, animals, endangered species) and cultural resources. The Nation's Realty Office oversees development on tribal property within the project areas.

The San Xavier Allottee Association (SXAA), along with the SAWRSA Office, ensures that the allottees within the project footprints are updated and are following the Bureau of Indian Affairs' procedures.

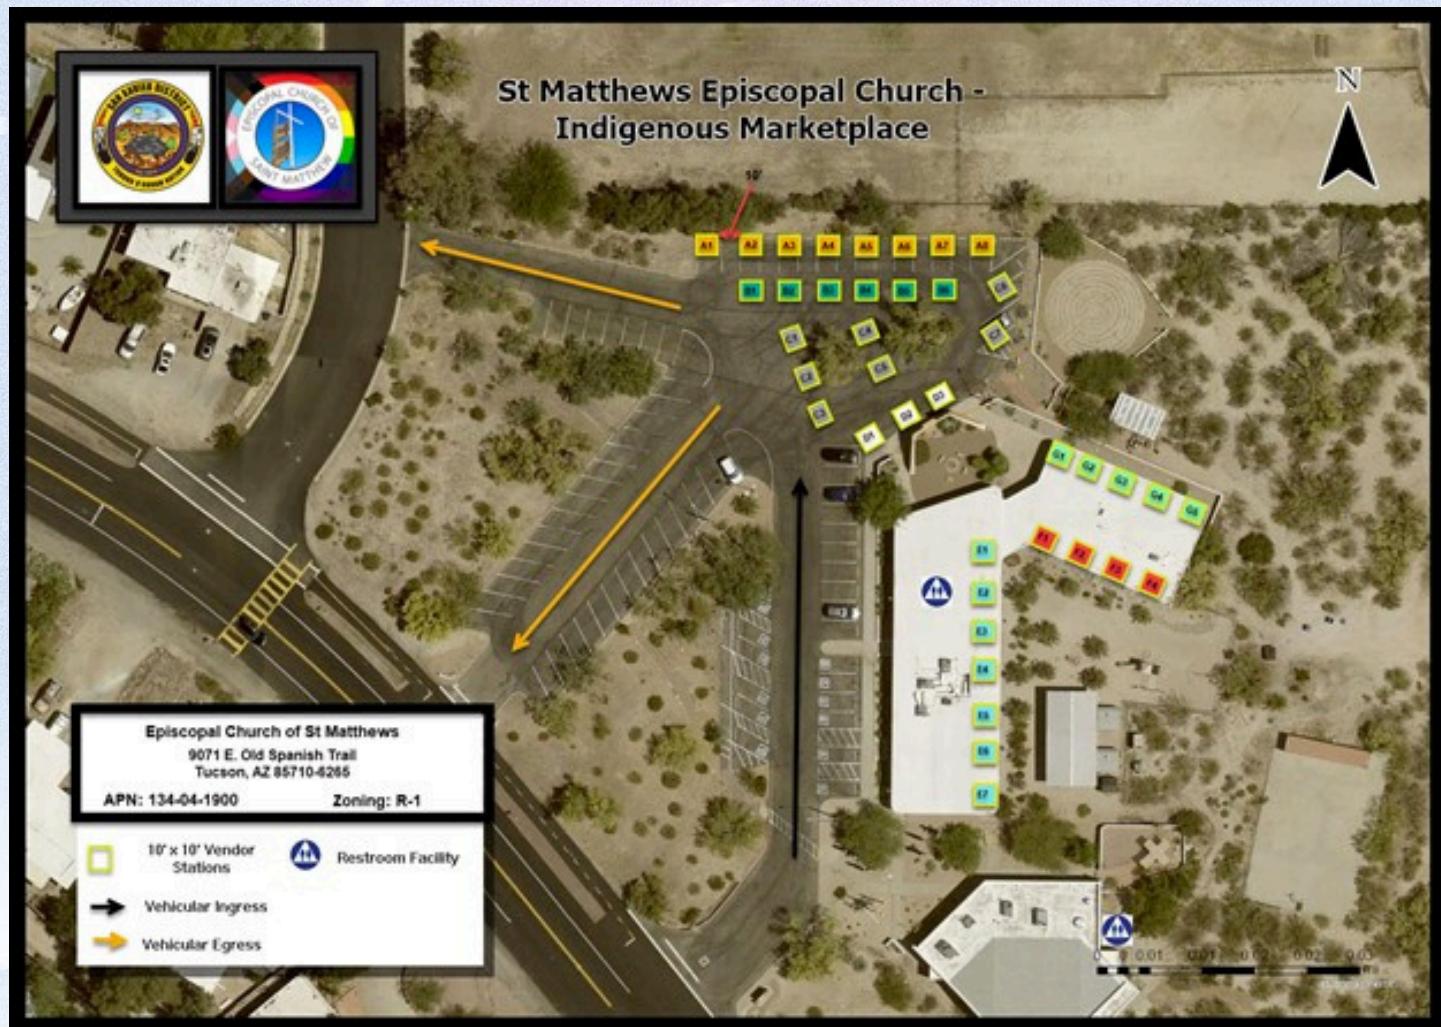

This is a lot of information. Should you have any questions about the agencies or the authorizations, please call Maggie Alvarez or Velma Begay at (520) 573-4000.

PLANNING

Department

Indigenous Marketplace at Episcopal Church of St. Matthews:

The Planning Department would like to announce a collaboration with the Episcopal Church of St. Matthew. Beginning on Saturday, November 29th, and continuing into December, tribally enrolled members will be allowed to set up on the church grounds to sell their goods. This Indigenous Marketplace will be open every Saturday for our community members to set up shop free of charge, with spots available for reservation on a first-come, first-served basis. Community members are expected to describe what they will be selling along with their reservation. Those who are interested in participating must contact the Planning Department at planning@waknet.org. We look forward to hosting this event as a fantastic opportunity to bring our community together and anticipate a great turnout.

O'odham AP'EDAG KI:

Greetings Wa:k Community,

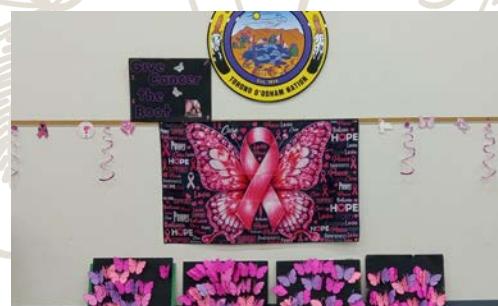

I hope all had a fun filled Halloween and the opportunity to visit the Voices of Our Youth Haunted House which the students did an outstanding job, "GREAT JOB STUDENTS". People Wellness House (PWH) program hosted a game called "Zombie Eyeball Toss" where we handed out candy and prizes. This fun game was a hit with participants of all ages! We also participated in the Breast Cancer Event held on October 22nd which was very informative, and it was great to see our male community members in attendance as this disease can and does involve all genders.

Because of District closures and the SUSD Fall Break (October 6-10), our after-school sessions were limited. The students enjoyed creating Halloween art projects/decorating of our building inside and out, but sad to say the wind blew their hard work down. October birthdays were celebrated, and O'odham language continues to be part of our sessions. (See Photos).

I continue to visit the SUSD schools on a bi-weekly basis or as needed to support our students who may need extra support in different areas. Our Parent/Guardian get-togethers have been going well and will be continued.

As the holidays approach, take care of yourselves, and remember that It's ok to say No, and to give yourself permission to enjoy the Holidays by asking family members to help in making the day a joyous one for all. Thank You.

Good day! My name is Reyna Pablo. I am 18 years old. I attend Ombudsman High School. My mother's name is Genna Pablo; my maternal grandmother is Sally Pablo; and my paternal grandparents are Patsy Ramon and Ervin Antone. I am the Miss Wa:k Ceksan First Attendant 2024-2025.

To begin, my first appearance of the summer was the Miss & Jr Miss Salt River pageant. This pageant was one to enjoy. I sat alongside my sash sisters as we watched the girls present their talents. I enjoyed listening to Jr.Miss Salt River, 1st attendant.

For the next summer appearance, our court was asked to share a few songs for a cultural exchange with students from the University of Arizona.

On July 27, 2025, Arianna and I attended the WEWIN (Women Empowering Women for Indian Nations) National Conference. This was a four-day appearance; throughout the conference, I listened to many people who spoke proudly of their origins. I encountered people from California, Minnesota, South Dakota, North Carolina, and Alaska. I gathered a lot of information about other tribes, organizations that support indigenous people, and indigenous entrepreneurs.

In August, my court and I attended the Miss White Mountain Apache Pageant, which is one I will always cherish. I love how each girl showed their representation with their talents. Their regalia are so beautiful to see. I loved the weather there and hope to visit again soon.

My next appearance was at the SX Mission School open house. On September 6, 2025, my court and I attended the Miss & Jr. Miss Pascua Yaqui Pageant. I'd never been to their pageant before, and this was a different experience for me. I thought it was unique how they presented tortilla-making and traditional cooking. I even got to taste one of the contestants' foods.

Lastly, my final appearance during my reign was the 64th Annual Miss Indian Arizona Pageant. I would say this is one of my favorite appearances. I loved seeing the diversity in their talents and regalia. I have had a great year alongside my sash sisters, and I continue to treasure every memory I have spent with the girls. I appreciate everyone who has helped me throughout the year. Thank you to the parents, guardians, and community.

Mas-p'o, Thank You

Three-month Final Report – Danaliah Clarissa Miguel, former Jr Miss Wa:k Ceksan

Our royalty attended the All Things Tucson Service at the Cathedral for the 250+ Birthday Celebration of Tucson. It was a nice mass; Chairman Nunez gave a blessing. We participated in the All Things Chuk Son Celebration at the Presidio Museum. It was hot but lovely, and Gertie played that evening. We had a booth there to showcase our duties and travels.

We had our Farewell Celebration on Sept 20th. We were busy getting everything ready, and we would like to thank everyone for attending.

We started working with our pageant contestants, and it was fun to see our future royalty practice.

I enjoyed this year's experiences. I learned new things, such as traditions, different beliefs, celebrations, and differences between my community & others. I got to experience beautiful pageants & understand that everyone has their own specialty and what others enjoy about them.

I learned more about myself, how to hold a conversation, how to speak in front of crowds, and how important it is to keep our traditions & cultures alive.

My experience of what it is like to meet new people and learn more about their different cultures & traditions. Overall, I met many new people and learned new things, and this was an experience I won't waste. I encourage more girls to run and show how much they know about their culture, and I wish the best for our incoming royalty. Thank you.

C.V.C COMMITTEE

Wa:k Ceksan Tas 2025

Hi everyone! We want to thank the community for your participation in this year's Wa:k Ceksan Tas 2025. We want to commend the Estrada and Corella families for honoring their late family members in our parade. The theme was "Celebrating the Legacy of our Strong O'odham Women." The Estrada family honored the late Sally Estrada, and the Corella Family honored the late Judge Sarah Corella. We had 17 entries for the parade, and it was great. Thank you for your participation.

It would be nice if the family provided a bio in the newsletter, as part of a history of our community leaders who have shaped what our community is today and who we have done so much for. The committee was proud of the community's participation.

The committee honored our co-Grand Marshalls this year: Ms. Carmen Mattias, for her leadership as 1st Chairwoman of our District, an election board member, and the Miss Papago/Miss Tohono O'odham Nation Committee, as well as many others. On that note, we now have four women from our community who have made a presence as Miss Tohono O'odham Nation. We wanted to honor them for stepping up and honoring not only their family, our District, and our Nation. We hope to have future contestants who will represent our community.

We will include their bios in the newsletter, including what they have done as Miss Tohono O'odham Nation, what it has done for them, and where they are now.

We spoke with feast committee groups and other vendors, and they all sold out; every group did really well. That is what we want for the community.

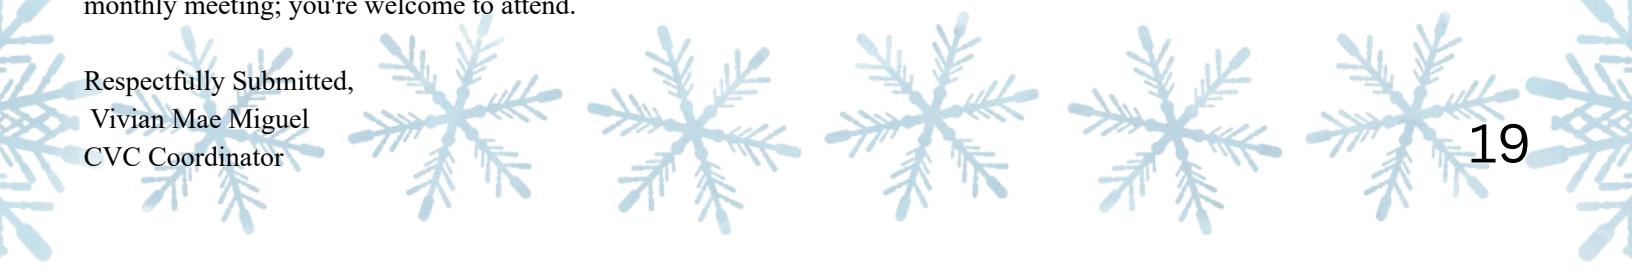

As mentioned, the parade was a success. Here are the results.

Miss Tohono O'odham Nation 1996-97

My name is Victoria Pablo. My parents are Alfred and Juanita Pablo. I am Tohono O'odham and Salt River Pima.

I was Miss Tohono O'odham Nation in 1996-97. I am very proud to be the first from the San Xavier District to hold this title. I am also very pleased to share this with all those who have followed.

As a young woman, my goals were to get a college education and work with the youth of our Nation. I worked with the San Xavier District and the Tohono O'odham Nation Recreation Departments for over 20 years. In 2018, as an older adult, I decided to return to school to get that college education. I attended Haskell Indian Nations University in Lawrence, Kansas, and earned an associate degree in Recreation Administration and a bachelor's degree in Business Administration.

I am now employed with the Tohono O'odham Nation's Education Assistance and Higher Education Program. I encourage all those who are even thinking about continuing into higher education, whether locally or out of state, to go for it. You will not regret it. Education does not always take place in the classroom.

Personally, I have been married for 10 years. We are parents and foster parents of 11 children. This was not something I envisioned doing as an adult. I have learned much about myself and the path I was meant to take in this life. Taking advantage of unexpected opportunities has been as challenging as it has been rewarding. I am grateful for everything I have experienced in this life.

My goals now are to continue working on my education by completing my master's in organizational management, and to provide my kids with love, security, and stability so that they are confident enough to take risks and know that it may take five steps or twenty steps to achieve their goals. Forward or backward, they are all essential steps.

S-ke:g Tas Wa:k Community,

Welcome to December! It is amazing how quickly the month of November went by. I hope everyone found some time to enjoy family and friends during the Thanksgiving Break. For us here at the San Xavier Education Center, we are thankful for the students and families whom we share and celebrate our work with.

As you know, we have four more weeks of learning and working until the next holiday break. Our goal at the San Xavier Education Center is to use this time to really move each and every student to the next level of learning. Please support this goal by ensuring your child is doing their homework every day and thank you for all your efforts at home to get your children into the routine and swing of school.

S-ke:g Tas Wa:k Community,

As winter approaches and the year ends, we take this time to reflect, give thanks and honor the teachings that have guided us through the seasons. December reminds us to slow down, gather close, and celebrate the strength and beauty of our community.

This month in our After School Program (ASP), we'll be focusing on gratitude, storytelling, and winter traditions. Students will learn about the importance of caring for one another, sharing kindness, and listening to the wisdom of our elders. We'll create winter crafts, share traditional stories, and talk about how our ancestors stayed connected through generosity and respect.

Our Voices of Our Youth (VOY) students will be attending the University of Arizona for the Native American College Day, and they will have an outing during winter break. We thank VOY for all their recent hard work, helping tear down the haunted house and helping with the Family STEM Night held on Wednesday, November 5th. We appreciate the difference they are making in their schools and the community.

We want to express our deep appreciation to our families and community members for walking this journey with us. Your support, encouragement, and presence help our children grow strong in both knowledge and spirit. Together we continue to build a space where culture, learning, and identity come together.

As we prepare for winter break, we wish everyone warmth, rest, and good spirits. May this season bring you peace, laughter, and time with loved ones. Let us carry the light of our traditions into the new year with hope and gratitude.

With Respect and Good Thoughts,
Anna Butler & Delissa Romero

S-ke:g Taş Wesig 'Em Wui,

This past October, the students in the After-school Program have been listening to me read the San Simon Book, “S-he:kig A’al”, the book describes the red ball. The children are playing with the red ball together with the dog and cat, and they are happy. With the 12 vocabulary words, the students are creating their own story using the S-he:kig A’al. The students are creating their own drawings and continuing to write in the small book I made for them. It is a good practice in comprehensive writing.

K-2 Graders are also listening to stories, singing songs in O’odham, and I am teaching them how to dance the Four Directions song. The 3-6 graders are using flashcards of objects in O’odham, working in groups, and teaching each other the words.

On November 5, 2025, Family STEM Night was held at the beginning of the month, with the theme Technology. The SXD Community member families learned to develop and build an imagination car, tank, or plane using technology. It was really lovely to see the parents/guardians sit with the child and help them put the pieces together. Several parents enjoyed putting the little pieces together, and once the model had been completed. The batteries were installed, and seeing the child’s eyes, with their families, is overwhelming joy. Great Job!!

A flyer has been posted for Christmas Caroling applications; come and join us.
